

Gossip of the Campaign in Both Local Camps

Leader Charles F. Murphy says he is entirely satisfied with the registration in Manhattan and the Bronx. Tammany will poll the full party vote and a big independent vote besides, avers the Wigwam's chieftain, after studying the registration figures.

"The downtown districts do not show the usual increase," said Murphy, "because a lot of voters have moved to the suburban boroughs, particularly the Bronx, in the past twenty-four months. We will roll up the usual Democratic pluralities in the lower districts, though, and the uptown vote will figure greater in the Democratic column than ever before."

While expressing every confidence in the result, the Tammany leader said that he would not give an estimate in figures until ten days before election.

FACTIONAL FIGHT MAY BLAST LEADERS' HOPES.

William Chivers has been elected chairman of the Republican campaign committee in the Twenty-ninth Assembly District. Leader John Henry Hammond says that he will regain the Assemblyman that was lost last year to the Democrats. There is a G. O. P. factional row there, however. Among the enrolled Republicans in the Twenty-ninth are Seth Low, Louis E. Ryan, Marcus M. Marks, Andrew Carnegie, Robert Kelly Prentice, Arthur C. Train, Newbold Morris, Alexander T. Mason, former State Senator Nathaniel Elsborg and others prominent in business and official circles.

DOESN'T SHINE AS A REAL SPELLBINDER.

Frank M. O'Brien, secretary to Mayor McClellan, made one political address in his career. It was at "The McManus club, in Ninth avenue, where Secretary O'Brien was a police reporter on a Buffalo newspaper he paid marked attention to the political speeches of Mr. Jimmy Naples, but he failed in the eloquence of that statesman when he spoke at the McManus club. The Mayor's secretary is thinking of starting a goat farm up State after his term expires. Senator "Jim" Frawley may be his partner.

ENEMY'S 15,000 LEAD DOESN'T BOTHER DRIGGS.

Representative Forness's plurality of nearly 15,000 votes in the Eleventh Congressional District in 1906 does not seem to still the ambition of Lawrence L. Driggs, his Republican opponent this fall. Driggs has a decorated truck and ten spellbinders for use during the campaign, donated by Secretary John White, of the G. O. P. County Committee. Tow Roman, "the Bowery Peach," will say a few kind words for Driggs on Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh avenues.

LEADER M'AVOY GIVES YOUNG MEN A CHANCE.

Leader Tom M'Avoy, of the Twenty-third District, is one Tammany man who believes in giving the young men a chance for public office. His candidate for Assembly, William T. Kelleher, a Yale man, is twenty-four years old. George B. Markham, Senatorial aspirant, is just past twenty-six. The two Aldermen from the Twenty-third, John J. F. Mulcahy and John J. McDonald, are both under thirty.

M'GUIRE CLUB TO HAVE BANNER RAISING TO-NIGHT.

Gene McGuire, who steers the Tammany ship of state in the Thirty-second district, the Bronx, has scheduled a banner raising and mass meeting at his Wampanong Club, No. 383 Willis avenue, for to-night. Joe Ahearn, who may be named Deputy Register, is arranging for a big crowd.

The speakers will be Congressman Goulden, Stephen J. Stilwell, candidate for Senate, John A. Hawkins, Assemblyman Jesse Silberman, who wants to be re-elected, and Patrick McGrath. Billy Gibson will introduce two local speakers, Henry C. Shuckno and Charles Waldman, both members of this club.

G. O. P. MAN SEES CLEAN SWEEP IN HARLEM.

Jack Lyons, of the Tax Board, says Republican candidates for Assembly, Senate and Congress will win in the Harlem district. Lyons is one of Harvey Andrews's lieutenants in the Thirty-first District organization. Tammany Leader William J. Wright claims the reelection of Assemblyman Abraham Greenberg by 500.

ALDERMAN REARDON IS COLLECTOR OF DIAMONDS.

Alderman Jack Reardon, of Maurice Featherston's district, sports the largest diamonds in the Board. His colleagues say he has got enough diamonds, or "ice," as Jack calls 'em, to start a jewelry store.

"I was talking with Dan Harris, the ice man, in the Wyandott Tammany Club," said Alderman Nugent, "and he said that if he ever ran short he would put Jack Reardon's diamonds in stock to make a showing. I don't know why Alderman Reardon has such a craze for the sparklers, but he would make 'Diamond Jim' Brady look like a puffed-up tire in a Vanderbilt Cup race." Reardon is called "Diamond Jack" and "Smiling Jack" by the City Fathers.

REPUBLICANS OPEN BATTLE ON HEIGHTS.

The Sterling Republican Club started the ball a-rolling in the Washington Heights District last night with a red-hot rally for Taft and Hughes. John W. Knight presided.

Such old machine war horses as Julius Mayer, ex-Attorney-General, and Job Hughes spoke. There was a rumor that Mayer had his fingers crossed while he was speaking for the reelection of Gov. Hughes, but this proved untrue.

Silk-and-Wool Fabrics for Directoire Gowns

The alertness with which the loom follows the trend of Fashion is evidenced in the beautiful clinging fabrics that are specially designed to bring out the swinging lines of the Directoire; "Souple," the French describe them; and supple they certainly are. We make a wonderful showing of them.

Chief among them is the Drap d'Empire—a soft weave with a superb satiny finish, in all the delicate, subdued shades that the season favors—golden brown, gray, cadet blue, mals, pink, Havana, light blue, cream, lilac, coffee, and others—a charming array. $1.50 a yard.

The Lansdownes, another delightful fabric, is $1.25—in many of the above colorings, and others of its own.

First floor, Old Building.

Strange News of WILTON VELVET CARPETS

Feather in Your Hat!

And a feather in our cap—for we told you so. Some men wouldn't take the little eagle feather that rightfully belonged to their Tyrolean hat at first—said it was "lucky." But now they're coming back for it. And the younger fellows have begun to wear a feather in their De Brazza hats.

We haven't enough to go 'round—other stores haven't any.

DOWN QUILTS

Made in OUR Way

Our factory is "working overtime" keeping up with the demand for Satin, Sateen and Silk-covered Down quilts made in Wanamaker fashion. We buy the goose down, literally by the ton, and though it is cleaned before we get it, we clean it again by means of a cold air blast, finally bowing it right into the coverings which have been sewed up to hold it.

We buy our sateens, satins and silks in equally liberal quantities, hence get best qualities and beautiful designs of our own choosing. These elements, combined with best workmanship, produce quilts that can't be matched for their price.

Coverings of best domestic sateen—light or dark colorings, handsome designs, pure down filling—

Devoted to Artistic Furnishings and Decorations

The object being to get as far away as possible from the merely commercial side, and incorporate in even simple and inexpensive things the artistic and beautiful in the surroundings of the home where the best part of our lives is spent.

Men of reputation, experience and success have been carefully chosen for their artistic ability to form the staff of the new organization.

In the midst of our building we have constructed a modern Fifth Avenue, or London-Hyde Park mansion

"The House Palatial"

Salon, an Old English Library, a Jacobean Dining Hall, with model pantry, kitchen and servant's dining-room; a Flemish Renaissance Study, Moresque Smoking Room, William Morris Living Room and an Italian Court Garden on the first floor.

On the second floor there is a Du Barri Bed Chamber, a Marie Antoinette Bedroom, a Sheraton Suite including Morning Room, the Hampton Court Chamber (Elizabethan), a Georgian Bedroom, an Adam Writing-Room, a modern English Sitting-Room, a Bachelor Girl's Room, a Boy's Varsity Room, a Day Nursery and a Kate Greenaway Night Nursery, with Bathrooms en suite.

capable of frequent changes in its furnishings, will be a permanent school of education to perplexed beginners in house-making and home adornment. Independent of the House Palatial there are on the various Galleries forty-four other rooms representing various periods and furnishings. On the Eighth Gallery the Antique Section has taken all the Picture Gallery and filled it with many rare old pieces, some of which have been the property of royalty.

Our Paris Offices give us exceptional information and services in this connection.
